

Que 1

Detailed usecase=>

1. The administrator supplies a file of users checking account
2. The system reads user input account number, monthly interest rate.
3. The system verifies that user input is valid or not.
4. The system calculate monthly balance using formula.
5. The system return the updated balance to to display on screen.
6. The system keeps track of users checking and saving account and displays as per request.
7. The system verifies if user wants to exit or continue.
8. The system repeats steps until user required to continue.